

EventPro CalendarAssistant

NEW automation service

stream your event calendar

direct to MS Outlook, Google Calendar, and More..."

You're busy - places to go, people to see and events to plan. If only your associates would lay off with the phone calls and emails: "Can you check the EventPro Calendar and tell me if Hall D is open on May 5th", "Can you check which client has catering booked on April 23rd?", "Can you check ..." Another email, another phone call - AAAARGHHH Make it stop!!!

Well, now it can, because the automated CalendarAssistant for EventPro Software will allow all of your associates to find that info out for themselves.

- EventPro CalendarAssistant streams your EventPro Calendar of Events to Outlook, Google Calendar, and a variety of other popular web-based (iCal) calendars, making it easier than ever to share event information.
- Create more options for sharing event information publicly, privately, or for select clients/users.
- Control over what information is shared and how it's shared.
- Versatile in setting up multiple calendars for different purposes
- Save on user costs--perfect for view-only users
- Compatible with major calendars (Outlook, Google, MSN, Yahoo)
- Access to current event information while out of the office/traveling
- Event information at your fingertips (iPhone, BlackBerry, Android).
